Hello!

I am a Science Teacher, and mum of 5 from New Zealand. One of the reasons I started my online business, was to help other people make an income online. As a working mum and Science teacher myself, I know how busy and hectic life can be. For me, digital content creation started as I wanted to explore different ways of making an income online. I have always worked long hours as a teacher, and I wanted to find another way to earn an income. My business was also created as part of my journey to create time freedom. Through making money online, I hope to be able to spend more time with my family and travel more. Potentially swapping the classroom for an online income, will allow me to do more of the things that I love.
