Getting Started

If you have gone through our Gentlemen's guide and charisma mastery you are already impressing everyone with your looks & gentleness. This guide is on top of that for people who want to master the art of seduction and get laid with whoever they want.

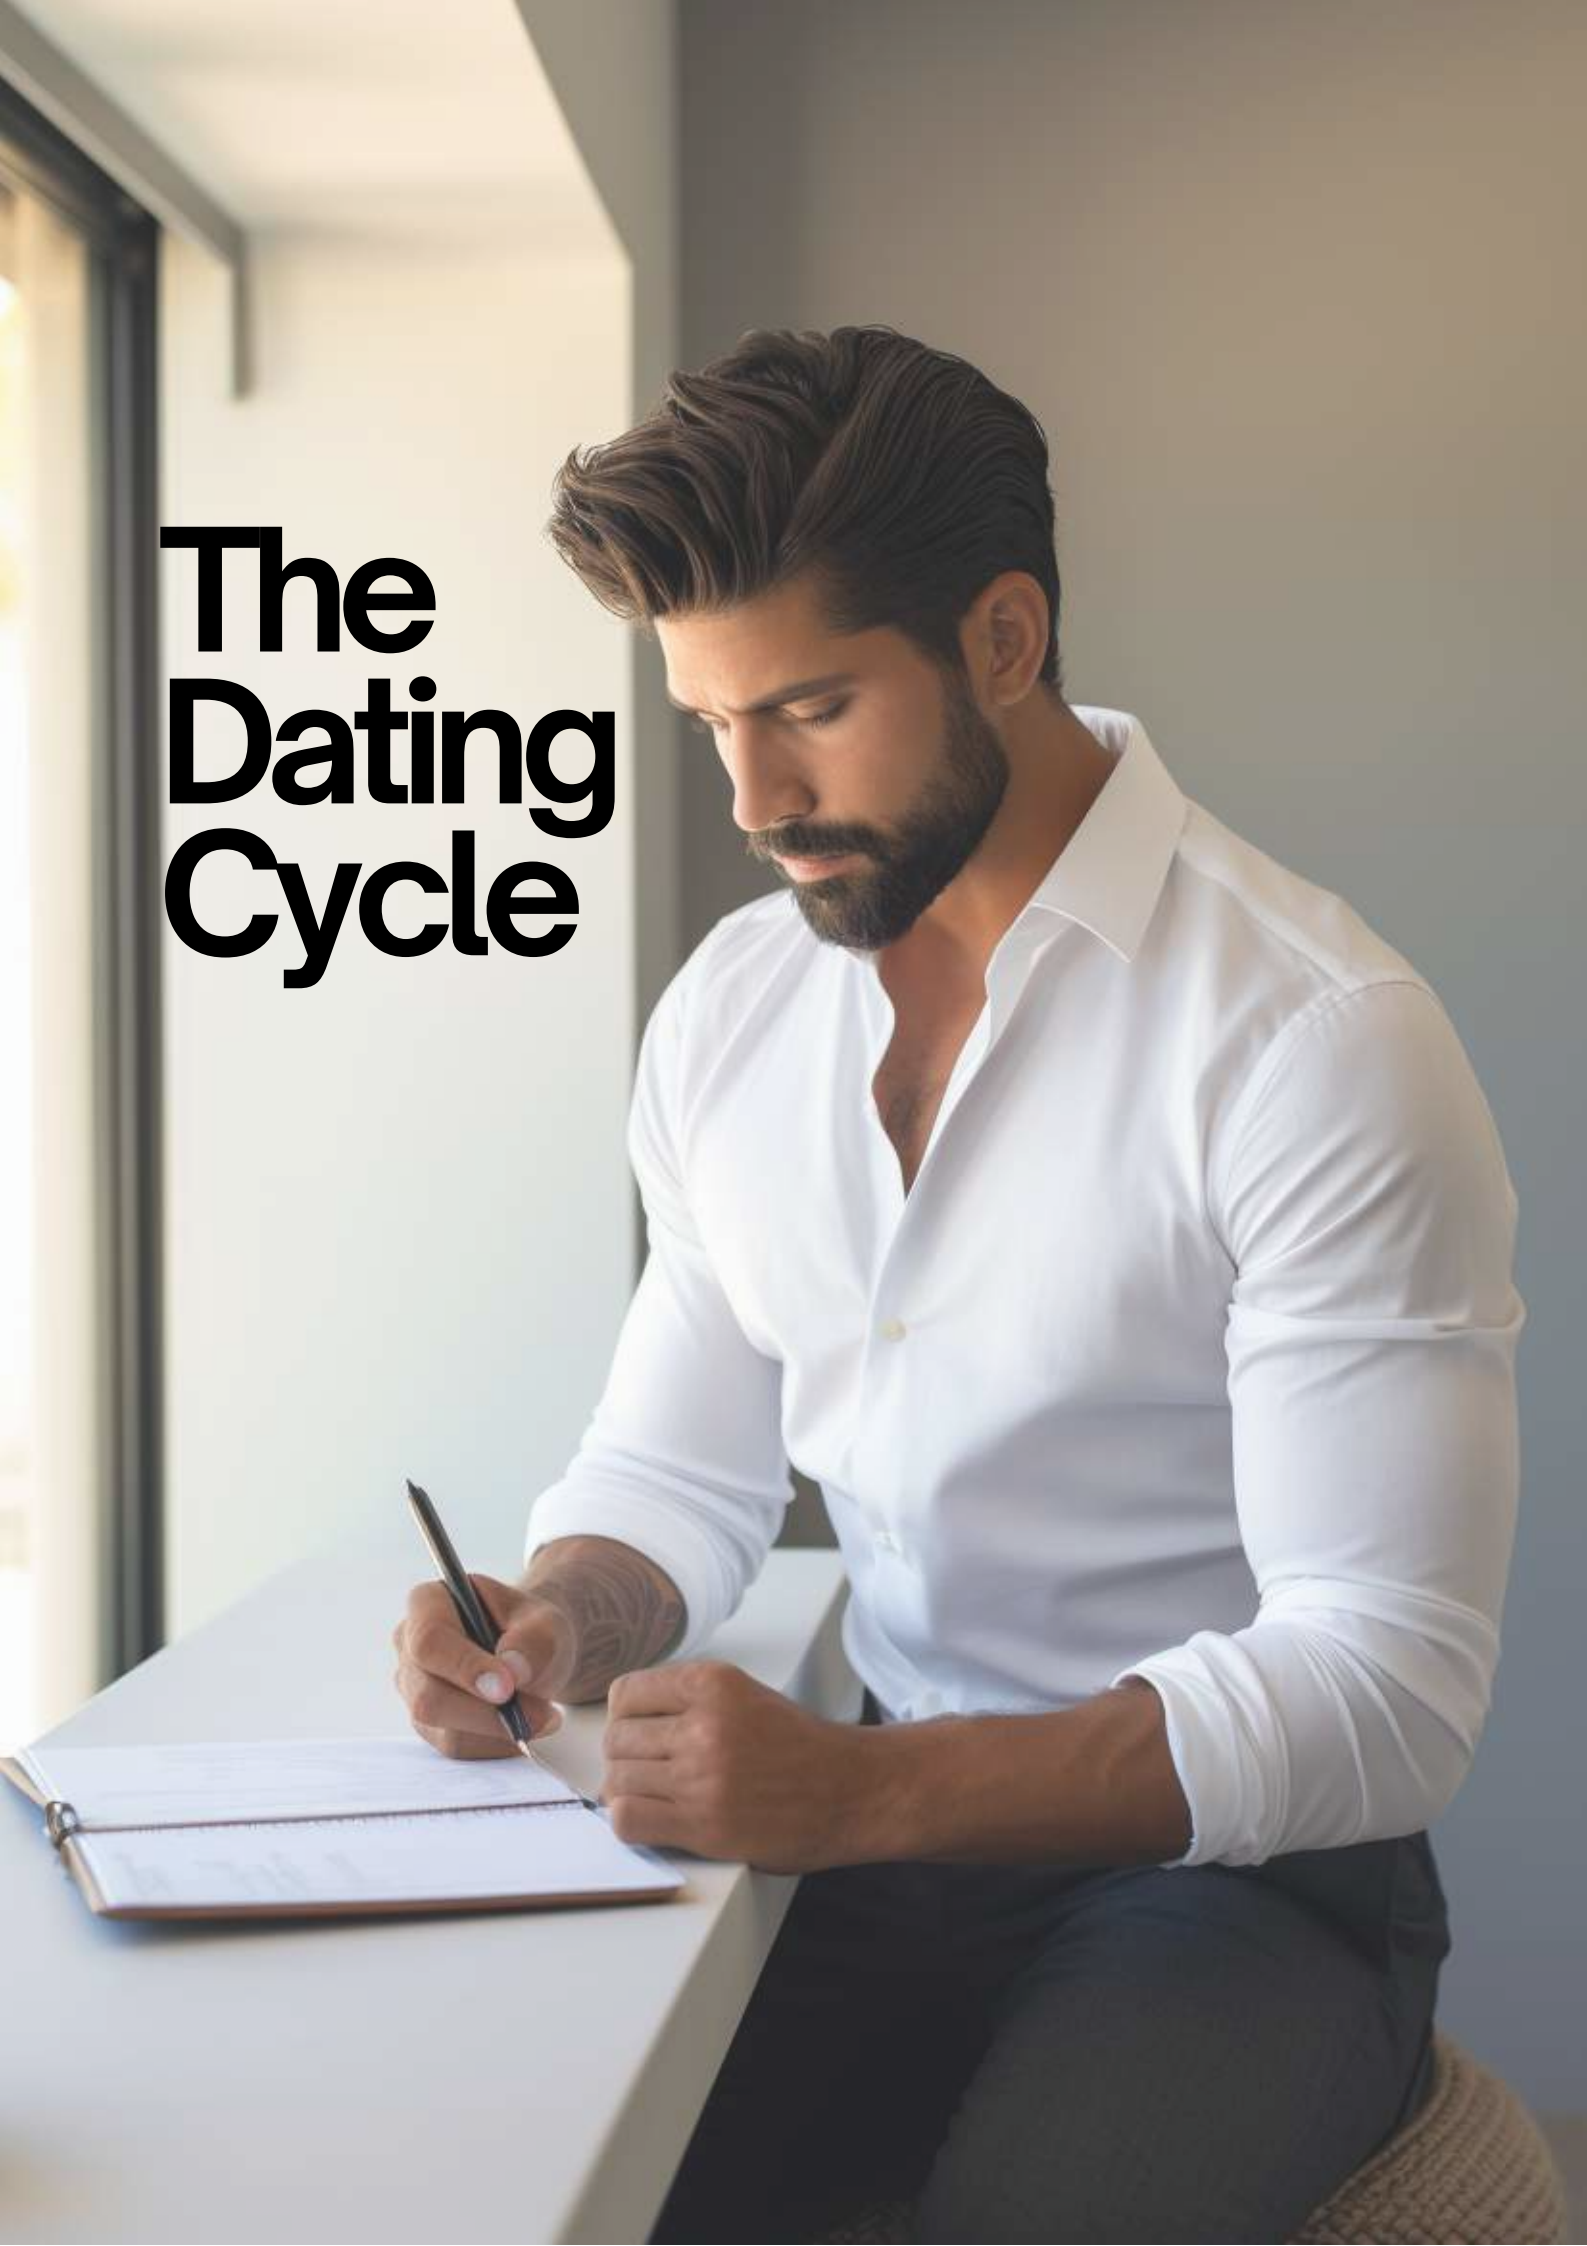

If you follow this guide I guarantee you, you will never have to watch porn or use your hands like a fucking loser for sexual pleasure. You will have sex on demand.

Though I always believed and advised others not to go after sex, sex in itself is meaningless and is always a byproduct of love. I understand this could be a little deep & difficult for the masses to understand so we will just leave this for some other day and stick to helping you in getting dates.

The methods and tactics I will share might sound unethical and dark but it is what it is. That's how the world works.

I also request you not to disclose this guide with any female because magic is magic until you know the trick. If she knows what you are trying to do it will be difficult for you. Now let's get to the business.

The Dating Cycle

This is how a dating cycle looks like

You are a fit, well dressed man who is going out there looking for beautiful women to build a list of potential dates so that you can approach them for a dinner date. In simple terms:

You > Exposure > List of Potential Dates > Approach > Date Night

This is the route or the stages you must go in order to get laid, until you pay someone to skip all the stages and land directly at the last one, “Date Night”. But if you are truly in this for fun you will never ever do that because like they say it’s not about the destination it is about the journey.

If you go through these stages consciously once you will realize that the amount of thrill you get in the process of hunting is not comparable to anything. This whole act from stage one to last has been the most thrilling activity in my life. I have spent all of my life in this pursuit and till now haven’t found anything to replace it.

Just one glance from a beautiful girl fills me with such an energy that I become alive. With her second look she turns me into the man she wants, with the third look I am all charged up to not only explore her beautiful body but her soul. I am not being poetic about it, this has been the reality of my life.

And this has happened more than thousand times, everytime, I became her man of dreams. I have lived a thousand lives in this one life all because she looked at me. Every character she turned me into was as real as it can get , I never faked anything, I was that man in that moment and that is how I became the Man of Dream for over a thousand women. On three occasions I have dated celebrities and nationals of almost half of the world.

The reason I am telling you this is not to blow my horn to see how great I am with women but to make it a point that this guide is coming from real life experiences of dating more than 1000 women.

Though I can write a whole book on this, I will try to simplify and present it in a practical way so that you can use it for your own benefit.

Now before we get into the details of Dating Cycle lets understand her mind and what she wants.

Now Let's talk about the first stage i.e. “YOU”

YOU = you are a combination of your physical body, dressing sense, looks, hygiene & charisma. Since we have defined YOU we will use this as the stage name for the first stage in the dating cycle. In our previous guide we have given you enough knowledge to become the top 1% of men in that category.

Getting your YOU right is very very important, this is the first barrier you have to cross. If you are not fixing your YOU then no girl will talk to you. If a woman tells you that looks are not important then she is lying to deceive you into believing this so that you do not fall for other good looking women. And that's a fact period. Do not believe otherwise. Have you ever seen a girl going and talking to a beggar in order to explore her dating partner? Never she will only talk to him out of pity and to signal her kindness.

Your Physique & grooming will be the most valuable thing for you to score with women. In business terms, you are the product and if you are not fit & groomed no amount of marketing can help. The only fat & ugly people who get women are Super Rich, women use their credit cards to book holidays with good-looking ones. And irrespective of the looks you are born with, if you just get fit and know grooming you are already better than 99% of the people. So fix your “YOU” first before going out there, I can't emphasize more on this.

So work hard on your “YOU”, every time you step out make sure you are the gentleman she wants.

Second Stage: The Exposure

Once you have fixed your “YOU” the second stage is exposure. You could be someone with the looks of Hrithik Roshan, dressed like Harvey Specter with a Charisma of Shahrukh Khan but if there are no women around you, who will you date? So exposure means getting your ‘YOU’ in front of a large number of females.

In modern times there are 2 ways to do it. Online & Offline. I personally prefer Offline because the amount of data I can collect in real time from her looks, to energy, body language, is not possible online. I believe Offline dating has more depth & intensity but you improve over a period of time. Whereas online dating is more mechanical & lifeless. In this guide we will talk about both the ways to get exposure.

OFFLine Exposure

Now being a gentleman in itself is an advantage over the boys, women do not want to be around boys, they love gentlemen, especially middle class girls. And I am saying this after dating more than 1000 women. Middle class girls fall in love with gentlemen, they love to see a guy in formals and smart dresses because they grew up in poverty and they associate formals with money and success.

So 3 very important factors which we covered in grooming mastery were, Your Hygiene , Fitness & dressing smartly. If you are fit and dress up smartly you are already in the top 1 % men.

So by now you must have started getting attention in your college , workplace , society , gym etc. But how do you know if a girl is interested in you or she is just being friendly?

Below are some points to consider which will help you to decide this.
(Signs of Interest)

- When you enter she notices you
- On eye contact she smiles

- She holds eye contact more than a second
- If you smile back her body language changes (look for the blushiness )
- If she passes you , there is more swing in her hips than usual
- If she is sitting near you , she is playing with her hair or phone and keep giving you looks
- She never misses a chance to cross you on common areas like water point, canteen, washroom, etc.
- She never misses a chance of conversation
- Tries hard to look cute while talking in front of you
- Gets nervous around you
- Sudden change in her dressing. She is putting effort now to dress up & she will make it a point to come in front of you. By doing this she is trying to woo you.

Hunter Mode

You have to act like a hunter to notice the signs of interest, very watchful and constantly keeping a track of your prey. You should know everything about her ( what time she comes and goes, what time she eats, what time she takes breaks, cigarette time, etc. This will help you to plan your moves, your objective initially is to get maximum exposure to all the women in your area.They should see you often) without getting noticed. And that doesn't mean talking to other people or her friends. That will be a dumb move. You should act secretly. No one should ever know who you are eyeing. Not even your close friends. This is the most important rule of dating secrecy. I have dated over 1000 women and my best friend can't name more than 5 dates. Remember you are a hunter and your every move is secret.

Lone Wolf

Second thing, if you want to be a successful player then you should always hunt alone. Be a lone wolf. Wherever you are, college, office, gym clubs, holidays, be alone. Initially it will be difficult but later on you will discover this is the best thing that has happened to you. You should not be seen with anyone.

This will benefit your dating life in many ways:

- The biggest benefit of being alone is that you can always be in hunt mode. From your morning commute (train, bus, cab, ) to your night outs. The hunt is on. Keep looking for signs of interest. If you are always alone and are not seen with others, this will create mystery in her mind and will lead to curiosity to know more about you.
- Being alone will help you to track your prey without getting noticed
- You can plan your moves without thinking about who you are with. For example you know that she is going to enter the office or college at 10am and you know the corridor or alleyway she passes through then you can plan to cross her without giving any look or smile. Just simply walk without noticing her. Now you need to do this more often so that she notices you. So if you are alone you can pull this off secretly but if you are with friends and you do this regularly then people will talk and she might get this idea that XYZ boy is after you and the moment this happens you have let your prey know about your intentions which will make this difficult for you.
- By being alone you can be right in front of her engaging in activities and pretending to completely ignore her. You can't do this if you are with friends because they will want to be somewhere else. Remember they don't have an objective you do.
- By being alone you not only feel confident about yourself but also you make it easier for girls to approach you. She will never come and talk to you if you are around people. And you do the same.
- If you are alone and got rejected, smile and move on nobody saw you getting rejected.

A good problem to have

If you are following all the tips above you will be facing a good problem: there are more than 1 woman who are showing signs of interest from the same place (same office, college, gym, cafe, club etc) and I don't know who to approach first.

In this situation there are a couple of things which you need to understand, First It will depend on the place itself. Let's try to understand this with some real life examples

If there are more than 2 women who are showing signs of interest then check if they are friends or not. If they are not friends then choose the easy one first and the difficult one last. If they are friends then go for the most good looking one or the one you want. Because if they are friends they will talk about you and if you choose the most good looking one then others will just follow coz she needs validation. Women want to date good looking men not because they are romantic or good in bed but because they want to flaunt him. We will use the same psychology in reverse by choosing the best one among all of them if they are friends. We will talk later about how to manage more than 2 partners simultaneously in this guide. For now just prioritize them on the basis of signs of interest and their looks. You can strategize this on the basis of your individual preference. I personally go for the most good looking one irrespective of her relationship with others. Let me give you a real life example. I joined a startup in Gurgaon with more than 2k employees. Since it was a startup it was full of young & beautiful women and my competition was with geeks & nerds of IIT. Most of them were unfit, jeans T-shirts guys with glasses who had very little experience with women. But there were few who were good competition.

When I joined I was already prepared , I was fit and was always dressed to impress. I did not make any friends and was always alone. This was a big playfield with so many good looking girls around.

I started with getting maximum exposure , I wanted every girl to know that I have arrived and in order to achieve this I started taking walks on the floor every now and then. I used to be fit & suited walking in style with a serious face. I will not talk to anyone. Once I had enough exposure I started getting attention from every kind of girl. The girl from the calling team, to the married AVP. Since I was new and nobody knew anything about me it was easier for me to create a mystery about me. Also I made it a point to not join any social evenings with office people. I will avoid all kinds of informal meetings to keep the mystery. Which led to a lot of potential dates. I had a huge list of girls who were interested in me and I had to make the same choice of who to approach first. Here I had 2 options either to go for the easier one first or the most good looking one. If you are a beginner I will advise you to go with easier ones to get some experience and keep working on your social value, i.e your looks, dressing sense , communication skills, and upgrading things of social status. Though there is a workaround as well but for now let's keep it simple. I personally chose to hunt down the most beautiful one first since I had looks and experience on my side. By doing this rest will just follow. Always avoid the most obvious one if you are in the same situation. She will make it difficult for you to hunt others. The key here is secrecy, nobody should know who you are dating. And avoiding girls from the same department. There was this cute girl from my department & she really had a thing for me but I never engaged her, she was the last one on my list.

You can use the same methods at different places for example : college, be fit and well dressed, always being alone, getting exposure , building a list of potential dates using signs of interest, avoiding girls of your class and keeping your date secret.

Generating a list of potential dates getting exposure is hard work, it requires planning and right execution. Though it's easier when you are the star performer for that particular place, for example: if you are in office being at higher position will automatically get you exposure , if you are in college being a star performer of any activity will get you exposure, (sports, extracurricular activities, dance , politics ) if you are in gym having a great physique will get you exposure, if you are in club being a DJ will get you exposure.

List of Offline Places Where you get exposure

- Workplace: Avoid same department
- College: Campus events, lectures, clubs, societies and groups
- Gym/Fitness Clubs: Get a membership of a gym like cult that has large number of outlets in a city which allows you to workout at any club thus increasing your exposure to women. This gives you the flexibility to go and meet different women from all corners of the city.
- Yoga Classes: a perfect setting to meet women again keep changing the yoga studio every couple of months to get more exposure. If you already have the attention of the women in your class then change timings and choose a different batch. Remember more exposure equals more dates.
- Dance Classes: Look for salsa dance classes in your city and you will definitely end up dating someone from there.
- Cafes : Check out cafes in your city which allow people to just chill and spend a day or 2 at that cafe. Sit all day on your own with a book and you may find a date there. If you can afford, go to high end cafes because it is easier to approach since rich girls are used to being approached.
- Bars & Club : Hit bars and clubs every night on your own. Do not take friends. Follow this protocol. Enter the bar , take a round and check out everyone. Try to figure out who is with her man and who is with just friends. You will know the difference between boyfriend and friend by the way he touches her and her looks. Your objective here is to look for girls who are not with their boyfriends. They are either with other girls or friends. These are your targets. Now you find a spot in the bar from where you can get a view of most of the club. You stand here with a glass of lemon water and start receiving signals (signs of interest ) eye contact + smile is one. You do not drink and at all cost avoid dancing.

Boys dancing in the clubs are just jokers & entertainers, and the reason I say that is because when you dance you have no idea about the potential dates around you and you are sweating like a pig, with a messy hair and clothes only a drunk woman is what you can score. So avoid this at all times, be a gentleman and stand tall with a glass of drink, reading signals and making his move at the right time. If she keeps on looking at you and smiling then wait for the moment she goes towards the washroom, that is her sign for you to initiate conversation because she has excused herself from the company she was with. In all scenarios whether she is with her girlfriends, boyfriends, just friends initiating a conversation while she is alone is the best strategy.

- Bookstore & Libraries: If you want to experience different kind of women then you should find women from different places. Girls who reads are rare breeds they will write you letters and poems and are very expressive. Dating them will be one of experience. A quick hack - see what she is reading google summary of that book and then say something nice about the book without revealing the plot. Use that as a ice breaker to make a connection.
- Art Galleries: Again very creative crowd and very open minded too. Easier to start a conversation but make sure you understand the basics of art.
- Offline Dating Events: every city has their version of offline dating events, they are quick way to get a date.
- Charity Events: charity events have a lot of married women who are bored with their husbands and are looking to reignite the passion. No trick needed, just be there as a gentleman and you will find a date. Just make sure you are very discreet about this because married women do not want to risk their married life. She will appreciate and be yours for the rest of life if you can do that.
- Any kind of retreat which is booked with group of people: For example mediation retreat with a group of people, this will allow you to stay with them for couple of days which is more than enough to build a connection

- Solo travel groups: again a great way to meet a single or group of girls.
- Hostels: While traveling, staying in a hostel will give you an opportunity to meet women who are traveling alone. Make sure you do not stay in a dorm and take a private room in a hostel. This will benefit you in 2 ways, one it will be a wealth signal to a low budget traveler, two you have a personal space to invite her to chill.

Online Exposure

When it comes to building your “YOU” you have done a fantastic job and you are already getting great results in attracting women. But Online dating is a completely different game. Here Other person is sitting behind a device with half-hearted intention. She is not really trying to find the one. In most cases she is just there to have fun, get a lot of matches for social validation that she is still desirable, looking for a partner after a breakup or probably her friends pushed her to try online dating. Whatever the reason is. Our First objective is to make sure we control what others perceive about us. Now how will we do that? In order to control the perception of others we need to fix our Profile. We could be using different platforms from social media to dating sites, the single most important part of your online exposure will be the image you project to others, in this case women.

People will tell you to be authentic and genuine but I will tell you authenticity & genuineness is for men who are looking to date just few or may be find the one and settle down. If that is your objective then go ahead and be authentic and real. But who are you fooling you know you want to be the player, you want to feel how it is to be loved by so many women at the same time and being in complete control. In this case you have to create a profile of a man who is not struggling with money, loves to eat out & party, loves traveling, well read, and should look like someone loves around women. I will show you how to do that in the following:

Social media: your instagram profile is the first thing every girl will check, so make sure you are projecting what we just talked about. Here You should start with flaunting yourself “ ie YOU ” . Remember YOU means your fit body, dressing sense, stylish looks, & charisma.

So start posting topless pics from the beach or pool if you have abs or just sleeveless tees, pics of you in stylish clothes or suits, perfumes you like , watches you wear, anything that shows your “YOU”. Next Your profile should have photos or videos of you traveling to different places, staying in 5stars, & flying around. Flights & 5 stars are wealth signals , it shows you are rich and they can’t confirm that without meeting you. Second signal you want to send is FUN.

Women do not like to be around boring boys, they are designed to seek fun & adventure and that is why boys who play sports in school get all the attention so use that. Post pics of you having fun , that could be traveling pics, eating out at trendy and unique cafes, hiking, camping, surfing, partying at cool places not regular clubs, pool parties, etc. The third signal we want to send is of Intelligence and this will be a checkmate for her.

You are a well dressed , fit guy, who knows how to charm , loves food & traveling , always doing something fun and is also intelligent. What else she needs, in this situation she is ready to compromise on your natural looks. Natural looks is the face & color of your skin you are born with. Even if you are a below average looking guy naturally but you check all the boxes above you will never sleep alone that's my promise to you.

Now getting back to signaling intelligence, the best way is to read a lot because that can actually make you smart not just for the sake of it. Since my school days I have read something every single day, I am always updated with current affairs, this will give you a good idea about what's happening and is quite handy in conversations. I read a lot about philosophy , religion, business, science, and medicine. By doing this I developed an understanding of basics at the same time formed my own opinions on every topic. Every now and then I post something smart about life, spirituality, science or health. This shows that I am not just a good looking man , I am also an intelligent one.

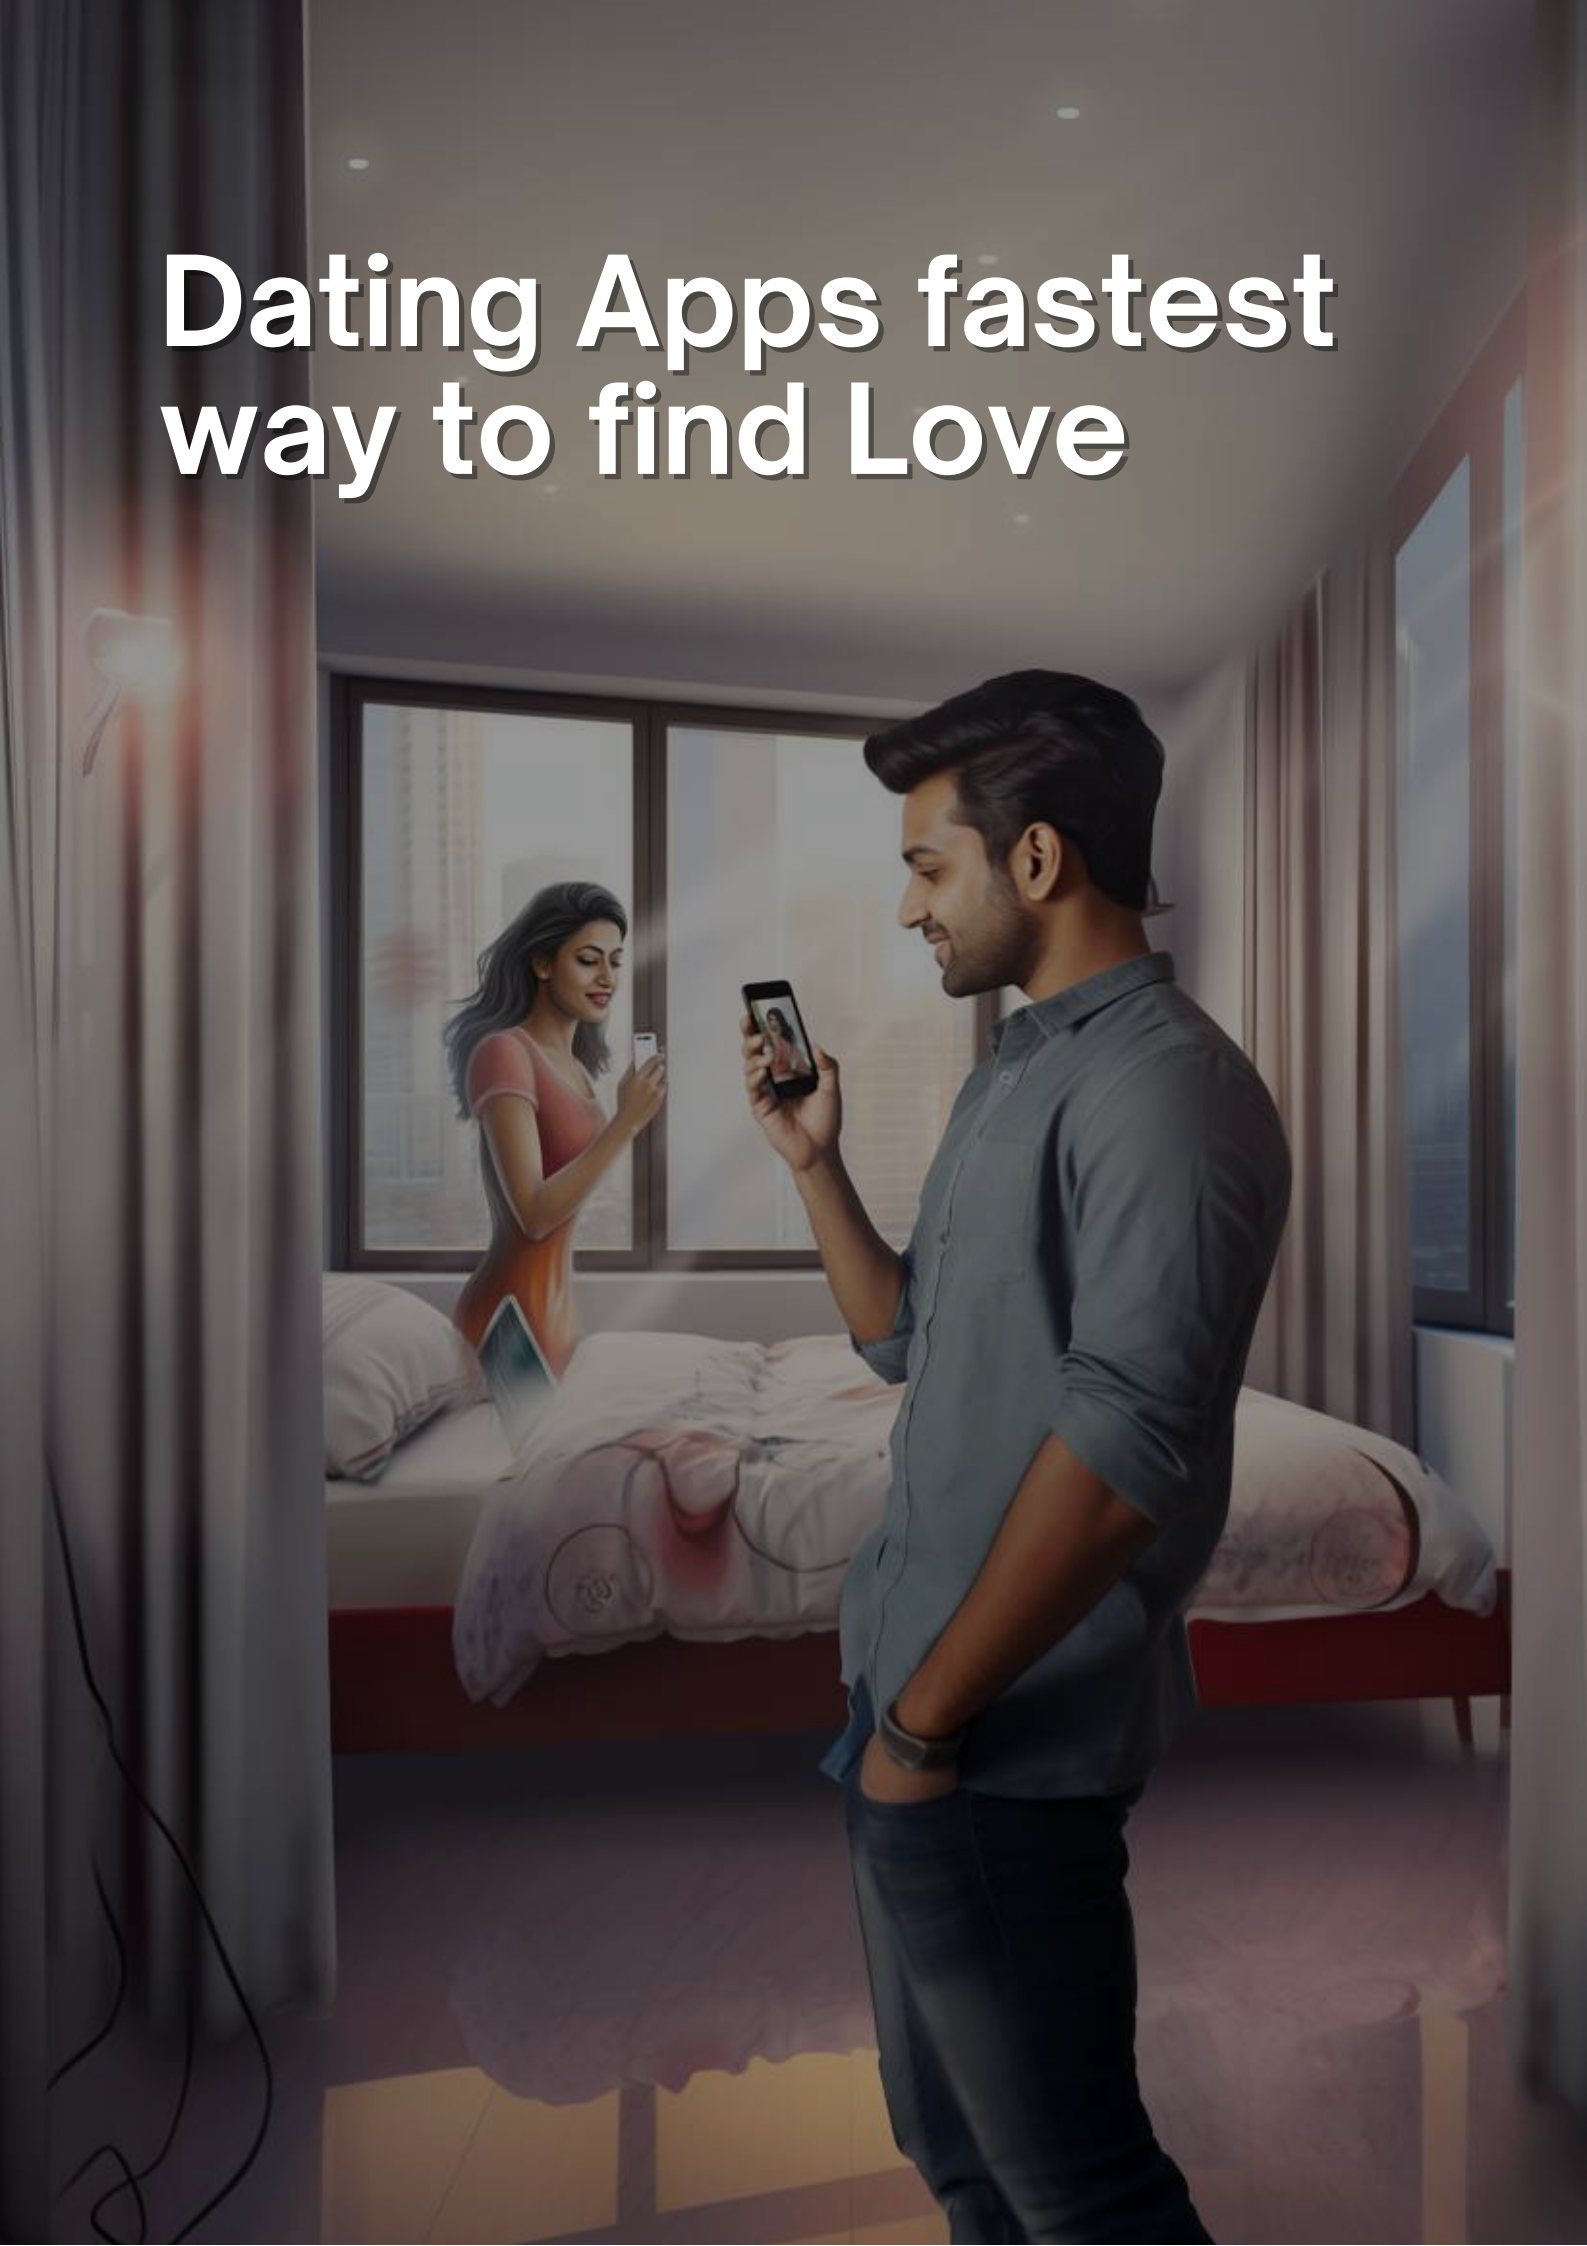

Deep down she doesn't know this but a woman feels safer with strong & intelligent men and that is why they like them. Now make sure you are never posting a picture with a woman, if it's a group that is fine but never post a story or post with a woman.

You want to keep it clean and should not leave any sign of you dating someone. Even if your dates insist on tagging you, tell them some bullshit story to avoid that. My favorite is : I like to keep my personal life private or it's too early for me to let my friends know about you. Also be private about your life, remember we talked about secrecy as a tool. Do not just post anything randomly, everything should make an impact.

Once your profile is ready here are some do's/don't

- Go into Insat suggestions section and find the cute ones to follow
- Check your common friends list and hit follow
- Build a good list of women you want to date
- Do not send dms to anyone ever, you are not a loser but a gentlemen
- Do not comment on any of their posts, here are 2 reasons for this one you look desperate for attention , 2 it will be saved there and other women can see that.If a woman can smell that you are desperate she will never date you, that is how it works.
- The only signal on social media you can send is by hitting a like button, everytime she posts go and like her content on alternative days, do not do this regularly. By doing this she will know you exist and she will check you out. If she is single and finds your profile interesting she will follow you back after sometime.
- Do not dm her I am saying this again
- I also tried one app which used to show me people visiting my profile and that was a great help in checking her behavior. I will link that here. You can use that app to see whether she is checking you out or not.
- If she follows you back then you start reacting to her stories, since she is following you she is now open to talk.
- Check her behavior first by sending reactions to her stories , if she likes your reaction then you can initiate commenting on her stories , if she doesn't like your story reactions then stop and go back to just liking posts.
- Social media is a long term game where you can't expect results like dating sites. So having patience is the best strategy. Just follow this and you will see randomly someday she is texting you or has started to react to your stories. This is a sign that she is ready to explore you and you should not fuck this up.
- The other Faster method you can try is to find your most good looking pic or video and turn that into reel with a romantic song, now boost that to only women of your age preference in your local area, you will start getting dms
- These methods will work only with women who has less than 10k followers

Dating Apps fastest way to find Love

Using dating apps is the fastest way for beginners to find love. If you are an experienced player then you know what I am talking about. There are many apps and we will use all of them. Our objective is to get the maximum exposure and that is why we will download all of them. Before I list them, let me tell you the first principle is the same. You want to project yourself as the MAN she wants, we have already covered that above while discussing social media profiles. So do the same and create a killer profile. Only thing to keep in mind on dating sites is that there are preference questions and I want you to either skip them or answer with “sometimes”, do not be too specific. We want to be generic in our answers or else she will typecast you. Boys hardly read a profile but trust me girls do that so do not be specific.

Here are the list of Apps you should download:

- Tinder
- Bumble
- Hinge
- TrulyMadly
- Okcupid
- Happn
- Aisle
- Coffee Meets bagel
- Luxy

On these apps you will find different kinds of audiences , Tinder & Bumble has young & modern women, Hinge & Coffee Meets Bagel has more hippy & artistic who likes to take it slow, Truly Madly & Happn has a middle class crowd. If money is not a problem then I will recommend Luxy, it is for millionaires , it is new and men get all the attention coz women think everyone on this app is millionaire so they not only give you attention but take you seriously as well. The only thing you need to take care of is that any woman you will get through this app won't be satisfied with anything less than 5 stars. So if you have money and want to date hot girls, Luxy is the thing.

Also I recommend taking paid plans for all of them by doing this you will always have plenty of matches to chat with.

Below is the Guideline you should follow for finding love on these apps:

1. Understanding How Women Date Online:

Women often prioritize safety, genuine connections, and meaningful conversations. They appreciate profiles with clear pictures, respectful and engaging conversation, and someone who aligns with their interests and values.

2. Hacking the Algorithm:

While Tinder's algorithm is complex, updating your profile regularly, engaging with the app consistently, and getting right swipes can boost your visibility. Quality over quantity is key—meaning meaningful interactions weigh more than excessive swiping.

3. Choosing the Perfect Photos:

- Main Photo: A clear, friendly, and solo shot is best. It should reflect our “YOU”
- Additional Photos: Include pictures showcasing your hobbies, travel experiences, social activities, and a well-dressed photo for a balanced profile.
- Avoid Group Shots: If using group photos, ensure it's clear which one you are.

4. Writing an Interesting Profile:

- Follow what we talked about while creating social media profiles
- Use Humor: Add a touch of humor in your bio to show off your personality and make your profile more engaging.
- Highlight Passions: Mention your interests, hobbies, and what makes you unique.
- Keep it Brief: Write a concise bio that's easy to read and provides a snapshot of your personality.

How to play with her mind and make her fall for you?

You must have heard people saying that you can't understand a woman's mind, but my experience with women was not like that. I have understood very well what she wants and why she wants it. Whether I succeeded at all occasions to manipulate her or not is a different story, but I knew what she was doing at all times. It will be difficult for me to write about all the encounters but I will try to give you the underlying principles so that you can use them for your own benefit. I will leave you with my theories and it is upto you to agree with them or not.

Now in order to understand her mind lets go from the very beginning, when a girl is born she spends 2-3 years with her mother but right after that she becomes father's daughter. She will run to her father the moment he comes home and will shower him all the love. She is not doing it knowingly it is happening automatically because nature has given her survival mechanism to use emotions and love to control man or should i say men of power. In a family men are the head and take all the decisions that is why she is trying to stay close to the power. You will see on the occasions where the father is not earning and doesn't have any say in the family, a daughter will be closer to her mother , if she is eldest one she will start having affairs as soon as she turns 13-14yrs. She is just trying to find safe arms, that's it. So the key here is Survival & safety. That is what she wants at the core, now you can argue that even men want the same and I will agree with you on that. Men also want survival & safety but what we do in order to survive is the difference here.

“Men will try to acquire power (physical +monetary+influence) whereas women will try to acquire men of power”.

For a woman, In ancient times men of great build with physical strength were symbols of power because that men can protect her and provide for her. In modern times the definition of power has changed to money+influence but it takes almost 22-25yrs for a woman to realize this. Young girls in the age bracket of 16-25 still give a lot of importance to physical build and looks because they are still young and that is part of their genetic memory, as they grow old they start realizing the modern definition of power ii.e money+influence.

That is the reason why young girls are so passionate about their teenage romances and they are ready to die or run away with their partner, because as per them they have identified the best looking man they can have as a partner and also enjoys complete control over them since the guy has expressed his emotions for her. She is responding to her primitive need of power which does not include money & influence, it's only physical looks.

As she grows old and starts realizing the modern definition of power she shifts her attention to men with money & influence, she consciously chooses that over physical looks but the physical looks is so deeply engraved in her primitive genes that she can not control her unconscious urges to have sex with good looking men. And that is why you see women happily married to rich men who also love them still having extra-marital affairs.

The reason I am telling you all this is not to judge women or paint a bad picture , I am telling you so that you understand the underlying desire of every woman and manipulate them. If you talk about this to any girl they will not agree with you and in turn may have to fight because they themselves do not know this and they do not want to accept this as well because in their eyes it's unethical or bad.

But we do not care about good or bad , there is no such thing as good or bad as long as you know what you are doing and are ready to face the consequences of your actions.

Since now you know the unsaid desires of women, it is important for you to find out at what stage of life your potential date is,

1. Is she below 25yrs giving more importance to looks, or
2. She is close to 30 looking to find a rich man to settle down, or
3. is she already married to a rich guy but is craving for the romance

There could be more categories but for your benefit let's keep these 3 only. Another factor which plays an important role here is her family. What kind of family she was born in. If she was born in a rich family then she will give more importance to physical looks and how well you respond to her emotions. If she was born in a middle class or poor family then you have to see where she stands currently in terms of her career that will give you a fair idea about what she wants.

Now You must be thinking great now I know the types of women and what they want, i will just give it to them and have sex. But it is not that simple. There is a universal law of equal reaction, which means if a woman wants something from men , she must give something in return. Now what possibly she can give in return, exactly what you want “sex”.

Now you must be thinking what ? women don't want sex?

Here is the good news, women want sex more than you want , but she uses “power factors” to select her sex partner. She needs a man who can inspire her to have sex using his power. She wants to have sex and enjoys sex more than you , even if her appetite is more than you but she needs a man to inspire her into the act. So that is good news , she wants what you want.

Now let's get back to the 3 categories we talked about and discuss some manipulation techniques:

- 1.Is she below 25yrs giving more importance to looks, or
- 2.She is close to 30 looking to find a rich man to settle down, or
- 3.is she already married to a rich guy but is craving for the romance

Category 1:

If she is below 25yrs you know she wants men of good looks and someone who can reciprocate her emotions too. For this category , you should first try to discover her type of lover. All women have an image of their lover and deep down they are building it using the information they get from the outside world. I discovered that if i can find their taste in music and movies this will help me uncover her hidden lover, so i always start by finding her favorite music , favorite films and one important question which i asks very subtly is if you have to date one movie character who that would be. Now try to find a pattern between the music , films, fav hero , and favorite character. You will be surprised to know that she likes a particular hero because he looks a certain way and does movies of a certain genre. Her favorite character is also similar to the pattern as well. For example, I met a girl who likes romantic songs, romantic movies and her favorite character is an obsessed lover of a movie called Dar in bollywood. Now I clearly know she loves sharukhan, she is not into guys with abs.

Once you know this then it is so easy for you , all you have to do is become that person. I know it will be difficult in the beginning to act but if you prepare well you will become that lover. These questions will reveal a lot about what kind of relationship she wants, does she want an intense love or a love with boundaries. Here you become that lover and regularly doing the acts of that lover will help you to control her.

Category 2:

For a woman of this category, the same method of uncovering her secret lover will help to just build rapport with her, but that will not take you far. For such women you need to drop signs of wealth & influence. You could do that by inviting her to posh lounges and restaurants, wearing suits and good clothes. Offering her pick up and drop and by sharing your stories of travel or anything which hints at luxury or money. But make sure you are not direct about these signs, these should be dropped very subtly. In this category since women are looking to settle down they may ask you about your marriage plans because they are not meeting you for just sex, they are in shopping mode to find a partner. Here the best response is I am not looking to get married next year but I am open. By saying this you have kept her hunt on. If you will clearly say no, you have lost your chances. If she ask you this question even before you have slept with her than a straight forward response is "I think it is too early for us to even talk about this , lets know each other first"

Category 3:

For this category of women signs of interest are slow. She is very careful and things move very slow. She doesn't want to be too obvious and risk her marriage but at the same time she wants to explore other options. In this case you should look for signs where she wants to be in touch with you , she tries to communicate with you by making excuses that she needs help with this or that. She will not be a regular with chatting and talking , she may reply to you late due to her husband around, but the real sign for you to pick from her is when she starts talking about her relationship with her husband that is the confirmation for you to make your move. Remember her needs and act accordingly , make her feel like 19 again and she will go mad about you. The only thing you need to make sure is secrecy. Help her in keeping her relationship with you discreet and be understanding.

Approach

You will rarely see a woman approaching a man, that only happens when you are 10/10 on all the desires of her. Which means you are good looking , rich and have influence. These factors can vary individually. For example a decent looking guy who owns an entry level luxury car and lives in a decent house may be perceived as a man of power to a middle class girl and man of great power to a lower middle class girl. Understanding this equation of how much power you have and how beautiful she is , is the key to successful dates.

Online Approach

The Irresistible First Message:

- Personalized Message: Reference something from their profile or photos to show genuine interest.
- Ask a Question: Initiate a conversation by asking a thoughtful question related to their interests.
- Humor Helps: If appropriate, add humor to your opening message to break the ice.
- Avoid Generic Openers: Stay away from overused pickup lines or compliments.

Chatting to Get a Date:

- Build Rapport: Establish a connection by finding common interests and experiences.
- Ask Open-ended Questions: Encourage detailed responses to keep the conversation flowing.
- Be Genuine and Respectful: Treat the person with respect and authenticity.
- Share Stories: Share relatable stories to create a sense of closeness and understanding.

Locking a First Date:

- Timing is Key: Once you've established a connection, suggest a meeting when the conversation is lively and engaging.
- Be Clear: Propose a specific activity or place to meet, ensuring clarity in your invitation.

- Respect Their Decision: If they decline or suggest an alternative time, respect their choice and be open to adjusting plans.

Real-life Examples

- Profile Bio Example: "Travel enthusiast, foodie, and a lover of good conversations. Let's swap travel tales over a cup of chai."
- First Message Example: "Hey! I noticed you're a fan of trekking. Any favorite trails in the Himalayas you'd recommend?"
- Chat Example: "Absolutely, I love that trail too! By the way, have you tried the local momos near that area? They're incredible."
- Locking a Date Example: "The weather is perfect for an outdoor coffee. How about catching up at [café name] this weekend?"

Offline Approach

Approaching women offline requires confidence, respect, and the ability to read the situation. Here are tips and icebreakers for approaching women in various settings:

1. Cafe:

Tip:

- Choose a relaxed time when the cafe isn't too crowded.
- Approach with a friendly and genuine smile.

Icebreaker:

"Hi! I couldn't help but notice you're reading [book]. I've heard great things about it. Is it as good as they say?"

2. Workplace:

Tip:

- Find common areas like the kitchen or during a break.
- Keep the conversation light and work-related initially.

Icebreaker:

"Hi! I noticed we're on the same project. How do you find working on it? Any interesting insights?"

3. College:

Tip:

- Attend group activities or join clubs related to your interests.
- Be open and friendly, approaching with casual conversation.

Icebreaker:

"Hey! I'm [name]. I noticed you're into [interest/hobby]. That's awesome! How did you get into that?"

4. Bar:

Tip:

- Choose a moment when she's not engaged in a group conversation.
- Maintain eye contact and a confident posture.

Icebreaker:

"Hi! I saw you from across the bar and thought I'd come say hello. What's your favorite drink here?"

5. Library:

Tip:

- Approach during a lull in her activities.
- Be respectful of the library environment.

Icebreaker:

"Hi! I'm looking for a good book to read. Any recommendations? What are you reading?"

6. Gym:

Tip:

- Approach in between sets or after a workout.
- Be mindful of personal space and not interrupting a workout.

Icebreaker:

"Hey! I see you here often. Do you have any favorite workouts or tips for staying motivated?"

7. Yoga Studio:

Tip:

- Approach before or after class, respecting the yoga environment.
- Show interest in yoga and well-being.

Icebreaker:

"Hi! I'm [name]. I'm new to yoga and looking to learn. Any advice for a beginner like me?"

8. Dance Classes:

Tip:

- Engage during partner rotations or breaks.
- Be respectful and aware of the class dynamic.

Icebreaker:

- Hi! I'm [name]. I'm new to dance classes. Any tips on mastering this move?"

9. Charity Events:

Tip:

- Attend events related to causes you're passionate about.
- Show genuine interest in the cause and the event's purpose.

Icebreaker:

"Hello! I'm [name]. I'm really passionate about [cause]. What inspired you to get involved?"

10. Beach:

Tip:

- Approach during a relaxed time when she's not engaged in a group activity.
- Be genuine, light-hearted, and respect the beach environment.

Icebreaker:

"Hi there! Beautiful day at the beach, isn't it? Do you come here often to unwind?"

Remember, approach with confidence, maintain a friendly and respectful demeanor, and adapt your approach based on the individual's response and the setting. Listen actively, ask open-ended questions, and let the conversation flow naturally. Confidence and authenticity are key!

Pre-Date

(list of Potential dates )

At this stage you have already got a lot of exposure from the online and offline world. You must be already talking to a few women or have built a list of potential dates. Here are few pointers for you to follow:

Offline lead: when you find an offline lead or potential date showing signs of interest the very first thing you need to do is ask for her instagram, do not ask for a phone number. This helps in 2 ways, one it's not a big ask for a stranger, imagine someone new to you asking for your mobile number, would that not make you uncomfortable? Two, this will give you a chance to go through her profile and study about her. Scroll down to the bottom and check her complete profile.

This will give you a good idea about her life ,from family to education to career. Nowadays people post about everything. This is a goldmine for you. This will help you to have great conversations.

Similarly for ONline leads once you have a match and start conversing try to move on from dating app to Whatsapp. Do not rush into whatsapp , use the dating profile to have great conversations.

My usual ask for whatsapp is this: I will chat for a day or 2 and then after she messages me I will wait for 5-6 hrs before responding , after that i will say “ hey tinder is quite slow to chat , lets get on whatsapp for faster communication” usually she shares her digits, if she doesn't agree that means she is taking her own time and is not sure about you yet. So keep engaging her till she moves on to the next milestone.

Once you have moved your potential date from Instagram/tinder to whatsapp you have already achieved the first milestone. From here engage with her on a daily basis. Remember your role , the type of lover you are playing, your conversations and response should be aligned with the kind of lover you are playing even if it sounds too cheesy or cliché.

Temperature check: Basically means how interested she is in you. You should be carefully paying attention to how quickly she replies to your messages, whether she writes short or long responses, the kind of words she uses, what type of vibe she is giving it to you.

Is she asking questions about you? Does she message you first? If you don't respond does she double message you? These are some signs which will tell you whether she is ready for you to ask for a date.

Once you feel positive then ask her out on a weekend, if she says no then ask her to suggest a convenient time and do not respond until she responds back. In this situation if she wants to meet she will suggest a time, if she needs more information about you she will suggest next weekend so that she can get to know you by then. Or if she is not interested then she won't respond.

Remember you do not send a message after you have asked for a suggestion to meet. Never double-message a girl. Send one message and that's it. Then if she replies you take a day to reply back. Once your date is confirmed you keep chatting with her and subtly drop signals of power depending where she is on age bracket. You keep telling her stories of your life in very short which conveys the message.

You are doing this not just one but all the potential dates, which means you are probably chatting with 4-5 girls at a given time and are trying to fix a date. Now if you have more than 2 girls who are ready to meet you then arrange them on alternate days.

Pro tip: You will find girls who want to meet for a coffee , for breakfast, for glass of wine , dinner , or drinks. Here prioritize the girl who wants to meet for drinks, she is the one who will sleep with you on the first date, not others.

Always offer her pick n drop , even if you don't have a car. Take a cab, pick her and then go wherever you are going.

To pick a place for a date ask her where she wants to go and then suggest an upgraded version of that, she will love it. Women love men who get exposure and are culturally educated. For example she wants to go to this cocktail bar because she loves cocktails then take her to the best cocktail bar of the town.

You should have complete knowledge and experience of all the bars and cafes & restaurants in your city, it helps in dating life. People will know you and you know what is good. If you can't visit then go on Zomato and do your research.

Date day Guidelines

Allright, here is the big day, you are ready for your first date.

I have again written a few pointers for you to follow on the big day :

- We have already fixed our date and today is the day, so what we do first is send a reminder message which doesn't look like a reminder message" hey good morning, hope you had a good night sleep, i am on my way to office looking forward to seeing you in the evening". By sending this message we are making sure that our date is confirmed. If there is some issue she will tell you right away and you can plan your day accordingly.
- Once she responds positive to your morning message offer her pick-up from wherever she wants it from
- Now is the time for you to make the full use of our grooming guide, make sure you are dressed as per the occasion, which means if you are meeting for then you can keep it casual or if you are meeting for dinner then formal. Be apt dont be over or under dressed. Your beard and hair should be neat with nails trimmed.
- Keep your perfume in the bag and apply it 30 mins before she meets you.
- If you are driving then open the door for her , if you are taking a cab then pay the driver 100 bucks extra and explain to him to open & close the door for you. For her you will open the door.
- On meeting her for the first time , gauge her body language and on the basis of the chemistry you had on the chat you can choose to say just hello or shake hand. You don't give your hand first. Let her do that.
- Do not try to hug her, she just met you and has no idea about you. She will feel awkward if you will do that.

- If she is all dressed up and you can tell by the look then make sure you compliment her, when a girl makes an effort to dress up it is because she wants to impress you. Complimenting her will make her happy that you notice small things.
- If you are driving then you should have your playlist ready on the basis of her favorite songs , remember the research questions. If it is the cab guy then you set the music on his phone to play.
- Do not play loud music, it should be soothing and loud enough to have a conversation as well.
- Once she gets in the car ask her how was her day and let her do the talking.
- Once you have reached the drop off area walk with her not slow not fast. Allow her to get in while you hold the door open.
- Make sure you are walking like a king who owns the bloody world, do not hurry in any act.
- Be gentle whether you are finding a seat for yourself or pulling a chair back for her.
- Once you guys are settled on the table ask her what she will like to order for drinks and then call the waiter.
- I frequently go on dates and the waiters know me well they pay extra attention to me , you could do the same or be respectful to waiter.
- Never be rude to anyone in front of your dates.
- Once you have ordered, now continue on your conversation from the car , keep asking her interesting open ended questions and compliment her genuinely.

- Always look in her eyes , while you are talking, while you are listening. Look in her eyes, do not stare. On many occasions I have simply hypnotized women by just looking into their eyes. You also want to make sure your eyes stay on her face, not her boobs or ass. You want to keep your eyes on her, the surrounding environment shouldn't matter and she needs to know that she has your undivided attention.
- If she says this with a smile “do not look at me like that” that means you are getting lucky tonight.
- Posture: Be consistent with your posture, be as calm and relaxed as you can possibly be. When you are moving your hands are swaying from side to side it communicates nervousness. When she sees you as nervous she'll believe you are intimidated by her. That tells her that she has higher value than you. When she starts to think this it'll be you trying to impress her instead of the other way round. This sort of frame in the interaction is a one way ticket to rejection town, thus make it a habit to avoid fidgeting.
- Voice and Tonality: Make sure your words come out loudly, clearly and most importantly slowly. Fast speaking is associated with pressure and nervousness whereas slow speaking makes you appear confident and sure of yourself and her mind will be able to pick it up. Take regular pauses as you are saying something in order to increase her anticipation. Also make sure your pitch is low, if you have a high-pitched voice you can work on speaking through your chest and diaphragm.
- Smile: This can increase your attraction even ten times over if done right. The right kind of smile is one that appears like a smug because you are conveying confidence. My smile does half of the work. But you should be cautious not to smile too much because it will appear creepy. However when you smile and do it at the right times you'll create comfort and she'll naturally connect with you on the subconscious level, which is automatically going to increase attraction.

- Keep an eye on her body language as well, does she look at you with a smile, if you hold eye contact, does she move away, does she try to touch you in conversations, like touching you on the hand or shoulder? Was she supposed to stay with you for 2 hours and now she is not watching her time.
- A touch of any kind whether on your shoulder or hand or your knee is a great sign for you. When a woman likes you and has approved you now the next thing is she wants to feel you. She is already melting there. So do not say or do anything to fuck it up.
- Ask her questions and let her do the talking , you just sit there and listen, and then whatever she says frame an emphatic question on the same emotion and listen to her.
- Make sure you do not trigger any negative emotions, like our past relationship, family member she lost or her dog which died last year.
- You clearly stay away from these emotions.
- Do not drink too much and do not eat too much.
- You never know how things can turn out to be, so keep your stomach half empty and only few drinks.
- She can drink as much she wants, you can tell her that you are here to just give company and don't drink much.
- Get her glass refilled without asking her , this way she will always drink 1 drink more than you and that will allow her in her mind to act a little bit tipsy, even though she knows it's nothing but she will say a little tipsy.
- In the end always pays the bill , even if she insists. Remember there are 3 things to power (looks+ money + influence) you don't want to look weak on any of these pillars.

When to make your Move for?

When it comes to making your move for physical intimacy I have three milestones in my mind.

- Holding her hands at will
- Kissing her at will
- Sex at will

Now our main objective is to have sex and we should try to achieve all of these 3 milestones as fast as possible. I believe that if there are positive signs then you should move at speed. If you can hold her hands and manage a kiss on the first date then try to take her to your place or hotel as well. Be indirect about it, like “I don't want you to go, let's spend some more time together, maybe we can watch this movie at my place?”

She will make excuses, you come up with something else, just convince her that you can leave in an hour or 2 or you can stay if you want. If she smokes then offer her a joint at your place.

Your objective here is to get her to your place. Once she is there you hold hands and then start kissing. You know the drill from here. If she insists on not having sex then respect that and just cuddle. She will do it next time so show her some love and become the lover she wants.
